  - Dear xx,
  - I feel sorry to trouble you but I am afraid that I have to make a complaint about our city's public transportation.
    - During rush hours, bus frequency is a big problem. Mornings and evenings, 30-minute waits are common. Last Tuesday, I waited 40 minutes in the rain for a packed bus, nearly missing work.
    - Also, many vehicles are in poor condition. On a recent subway ride, the AC was broken, and it was sweltering. Broken seats and rattling noises are frequent on buses too.
    - Meanwhile, transferring between modes is confusing. Last month, I got lost trying to transfer from a bus to the subway due to lack of signs.
  - To fix these, here are several practical suggestions.
    - Consider adding buses and drivers for rush hours, and implement a real-time bus tracking system.
    - Enforce strict vehicle maintenance, offer incentives for good upkeep and penalties for bad. Set up in-vehicle feedback like QR code surveys.
  - I have a few questions to inquire.
    - Firstly, are there plans for a new subway line? If so, could you share the route, completion date, and connection details?
    - Secondly, regarding clean energy vehicles, is the government planning to introduce more electric buses? What's the timeline and how will charging infrastructure be handled?
    - Finally, What's the future trend of public transportation?
  - I hope you'll consider my input.Thank you for your consideration and I am looking forward to your reply.
  - Best regards,
